Haiti Disaster and Donations

Hello, Friends and Clients!

The tragic earthquake with shook Haiti late Tuesday afternoon still dominates headlines all over the world. Canadians have been so generous in their response that our government was one of the first on the scene with troops, medicine and all types of support. Further, as individuals, we have been so responsive that several on-line systems receiving donations actually crashed from the interest they received. While this is good news, it seems almost overnight organizations have sprung up to help the cause and I suggest doing a little bit of homework before participating. Unfortunately underhanded minds will try to exploit a catastrophe like this not only using your hard-earned money for their own benefit but also jilting you out of a legitimate tax deduction. You can check the special “Haiti Website” CRA has set up to equip you better to handle this or call them at 1-800-267-2384. I personally appreciate any effort you put into this worthy cause and as always I look forward to serving you soon!

Always at your tax service,

Neel
